

Khilan Haria Chief Product Officer, Razorpay

Khilan Haria is the Chief Product Officer at Razorpay, where he spearheads innovation across the company's suite of payments and business banking products, including solutions tailored for global markets. He joined Razorpay in March 2019 as a Senior Director of Product Management and steadily rose to lead the entire product development function across the company. With a laser focus on customer-centricity, Khilan drives the overall product vision - building a seamless, future-ready ecosystem that empowers businesses to solve real-world challenges with clarity and confidence.

Under his leadership, Razorpay has consistently been the first to launch breakthrough fintech solutions that create a measurable impact, not just for businesses, but for their customers too. His product stewardship has firmly positioned Razorpay at the forefront of innovation in India's financial technology landscape.

Khilan is also a key architect of Razorpay's global product roadmap, pivotal in expanding the company's reach across emerging markets such as Razorpay's recent foray into Singapore and Malaysia. His strategic foresight ensures that Razorpay remains a step ahead, scaling with agility while staying rooted in delivering value where it matters most.

With over 15 years of experience across high-growth startups and multinational giants, Khilan brings a unique blend of engineering depth and product leadership. He began his journey as a software engineer at Cisco, leading cross-functional teams on high-priority initiatives, and went on to drive product innovation at Yahoo!, Teabox, Treebo Hotels, and more, taking ideas from concept to market with precision and impact.

Renowned for his instinctive grasp of customer needs and evolving market dynamics, Khilan has earned a reputation for building products that not only perform but also lead. He's also a respected voice in the product community, having spoken at leading industry platforms including Product Innovation Summits and Best Practice Forums.

Fueled by purpose and driven by a passion for solving meaningful problems, Khilan continues to shape the future of fintech - one transformative product at a time.
